LETTER FROM GENERAL WICKHAM. The following letter from General Wick-

HANOVER COUNTY, VA., October 4, 1878. To the Republican Committee of the Third Congressional District:

there will be no Republican candidate to be voted for in this district at the approaching election, there is danger that Republicans, led by the idea that it is to the interest of the party to support an Independent as against the Conservative nominee, may cast their votes for the gentleman who has been brought out by what is called the Greenback party, I respectfully suggest, therefore, that you officially advise them against such a course, as calculated to inflict injury upon both the national and State credit; warning them that the present great cardinai principle of the Republican party is the preservation of the credit of the nation: that the issue of irredeemable currency by the Government would utterly destroy in the early end the national credit both at home and abroad, and eventuate in great evil to the whole people; and that it is the solemn duty of every Republican to mark his disapproval of and lend his aid to defeat the movement inaugurated by the "fiat-money" men to depreciate the national currency.

The candidate of the Greenbackers in this district holds no opinion in common day to take into custody the colored man ston is opposed to the Issue of irredeemable currency and unequivocally in favor of preserving the national credit. In my judgment, therefore, our duty to the country should impel us to give him our support.

Should you concur with me in these views (and I cannot doubt that you will) I ask that (and I cannot doubt that you will) I ask that you issue a brief address, urging the voters of the district to cast their votes for General Johnston with a view to maintain the
